

LIVE NOTES

> A RECONSTITUTED THIN LIZZY WILL HIT THE ROAD IN North America this fall as opening act for the farewell tour by metal stalwarts Judas Priest. The group—which has reunited sporadically since the 1986 death of original frontman Phil Lynott—now features classic-era guitarist Scott Gorham, drummer Brian Downey and keyboardist Darren Wharton, as well as guitarist Richard Fortus, singer Ricky Warwick and bass player Marco Mendoza. “We love playing in the U.S., and it will be great to show the rest of the States what we are made of,” reports Gorham. “We are all fired up and ready to kick some ass.”

‘We are all fired up and ready to kick some ass.’

