

GEAR REVIEWS

TC-HELICON VOICELIVE RACK

Total vocal magic

FOR: Studio-quality vocal processing anywhere. The VoiceLive Rack is the latest addition to TC-Helicon's line of effects processors built especially for vocalists—all designed to produce any vocal sound you've heard or imagined. The ability to store and easily recall 10 user profiles based on I/O, input level and EQ help make the transition from studio to stage seamless, especially with the included MP-75 microphone. Built for vocal performance, the MP-75's proprietary Mic Control circuitry allows one-button control from the mic itself. The VoiceLive Rack is also finger-friendly—a touch of a button activates effects or edit screens, reducing menu diving to a minimum. The real magic lies in the outstanding studio-quality effects, which are crafted specifically for modern vocal production. We also loved the production-minded (and time-saving) features like the ability to refine preset searches by name or type.

TC-Helicon.com

NOT FOR: The overly confident warbler.

—Doug Doppler

‘The real magic lies in the outstanding studio-quality effects, which are crafted specifically for modern vocal production.’

