Zoom R8, R16 and R24: Portable Studio

We've come a long way since the heyday of cassette tape four-track recorders. Today's self-contained portable studios—like the Zoom R8, R16 and R24 (the big difference is the number of tracks)—offer the ability to record multiple tracks, process tracks with EQ and effects, add drum loops, do light editing, and create complete final mixes all in one simple-to-use unit. All you need is a microphone or two and some headphones or speakers. For writing, song demos and even final production, you can't beat these wonder machines.
